

Ko te pānui mō tēnei wiki, ko te kupu whakarite o te hākari mārena.

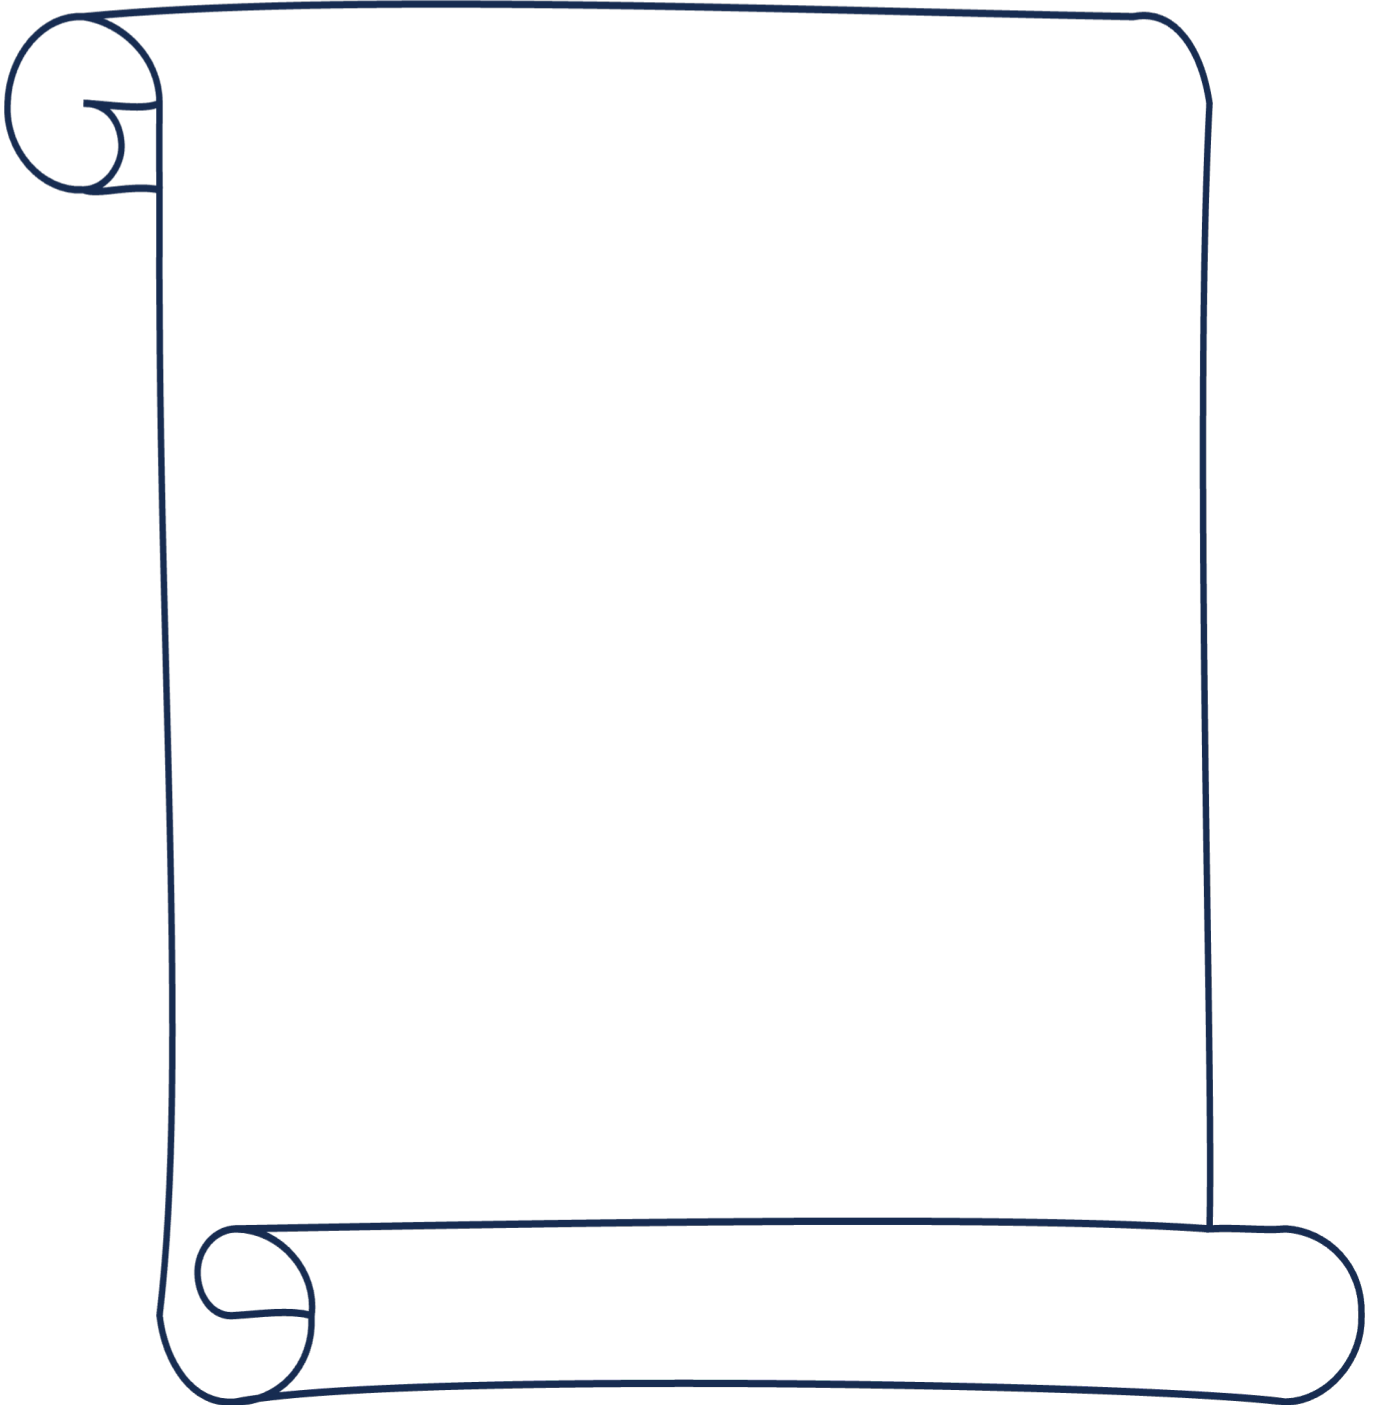

In this week's reading, the King is inviting people to his son's wedding.

Tā mai he pānui pōwhiri ki te tini me te mano kia haere mai ki tō hui whakahirahira.

Draw an invitation to your own special event.

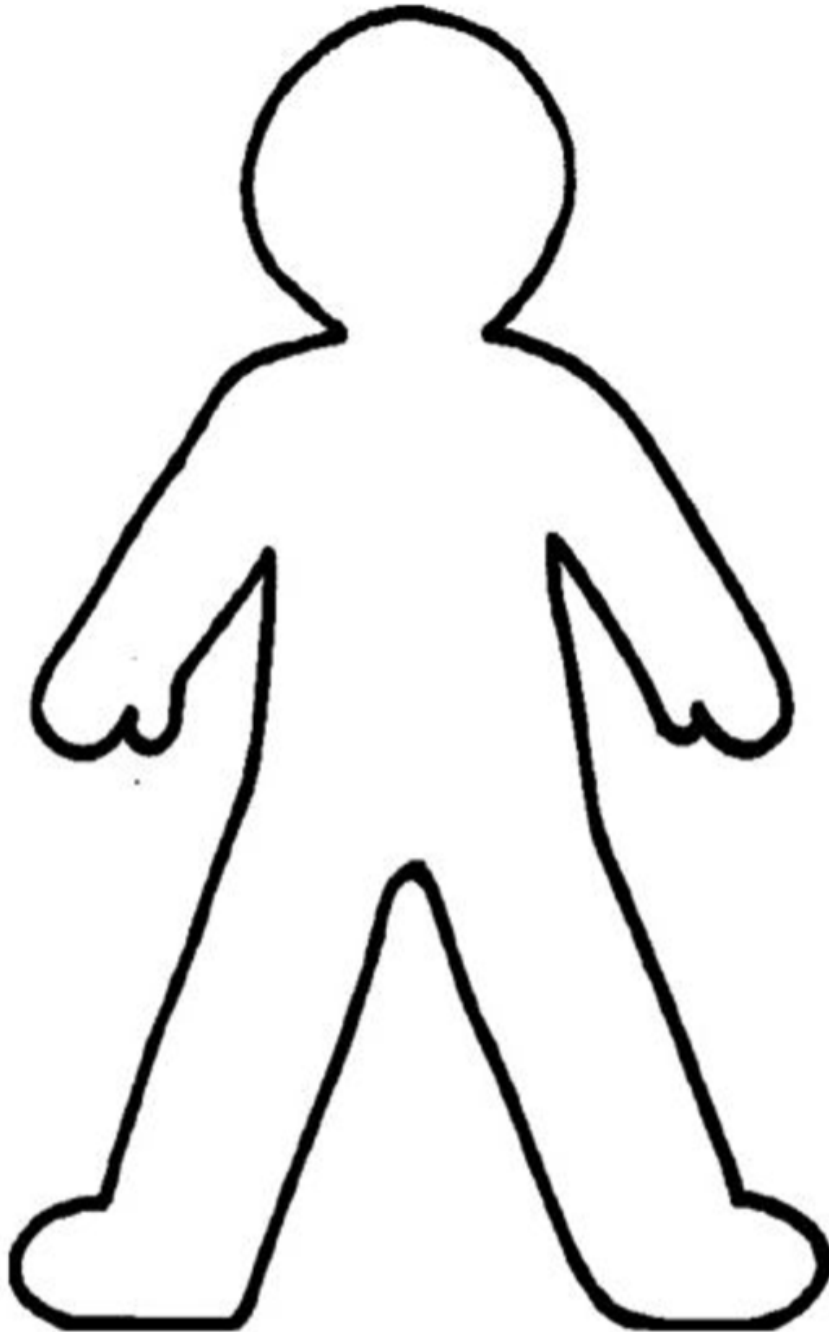

He aha ngā kupu mō roto kia hiahia ana te mano kia haere mai?

What would you say to get people to come?

He korero anō i roto i te pānui; ko te ritetanga o te tangata mō te mārena.
E pēhea āna kākahu? Kua reri ia mō ngā whakaritenga?
Tā mai he kākahu ki runga i tēnei tangata kia whakareri ai i a ia mō te mārena.

The reading also talks about whether a person is ready for the wedding; wearing the right clothes.
Draw clothes on the person so that they are ready for the wedding.

What else would you do to prepare for a celebration?
